During the full summer semester, Web-based and eClassroom final exams are typically given during the eighth week of the course and may be proctored at GHC campus testing centers. Four weeks prior to the testing dates, students in Web-based and eClassroom courses should consult with their instructors to find out whether they must register for a proctored final exam. Testing dates and registration information for proctored exams can be found at eLearning Testing Information and Sign Up page
